Consolidated Patch Notes v0.1.1362.6552 : Another week and another bunch of bug fixes, quality of life improvements and a couple of brand new security-based features! Handgun and SMG. Consolidated Patch Notes v0.1.1111.5605 : The rest of the team is back at work now and have been looking at where priorities lay for the games continued development. Leading up to and immediately following the early access release the focus was very heavily on fixing bugs and implementing easy quality-of-life fixes, but we can now start looking at getting some of the planned and partially-implemented features into the game, while continuing to deal with the less-impactful bugs and things like missing localization or user interface issues.. One year recap video: Past and future : Check out our new Youtube video with an update and a look back on the past, present, and future for Stationeers Development. Been a very busy month for the team! It's now been one year since we officially started the project, when we originally only had two on it (Scott and myself).. Consolidated Patch Notes v0.1.1411.6759 : Week 4, patch 4! Last week, we warned that with the new weekly patch cycle, some may contain less content than others. This is not one of those weeks! For the builders, we have Elevators. For the engineers, we have expanded manufacturing automation and quality of life improvements for the logic system.. Hotfix Patch Notes v0.1.1348.6486 : An issue was identified with the patch that got pushed a couple of hours ago that made the new authoring tool a little too powerful, with its effects persisting even when it wasn't wielded. This has now been rectified. Apologies to those who updated in the last hour and have to download another one, and those affected by the issue. Version 0.1.1348.6486. Consolidated Patch Notes v0.1.1089.5513 : Fixes and logic changes. Hotfix Patch Notes v0.1.1143.5721 : A quick hotfix to address some major bugfixes. Our team worked closely with community reports to identify and solve a major atmospheric issue. Atmospheres were "disappearing" still, due to a threading issue. This has been fixed! Additionally, improvements were made to terrain generation and water visualization. We're still working on the content update, which some great new stuff coming! But we wanted to get these important fixes into your hands as soon as possible. A big thank you to everyone in the community, without your support in the forums and on discord it would have been much harder for us to catch and solve this major atmospheric issue! Version 0.1.1143.5721
